

You're Practice MedFacts

When does In-house Billing Make Sense?

Maintain an in-house billing staff is one of the most financially, impactful decisions a practice can make. The right answer differs from practice to practice based on a multitude of factors: age of the practice, size of labor market, and state of practice finances; among other considerations.

An added cliché of: "if you want something done right, do it yourself. Weather true or false, this poignant cliché is something to keep in mind when deciding to complete in-house billing process for your practice. Aside from clinical services, billing and revenue cycle management are by far the most important processes of your practice. A practice's cash flow is dependent on these services. A decision of how to handle these services should be considered with great certainty as your practice will be as strong as its foundation.

So, what's a Practice Supposed to Do?

Administratively, a strategic analysis to show advantages and disadvantages of in-house to letting your partnered professionals of MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. handle your practice management.

MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. is your partner in practice management. MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. will relieve your practice of the evolution of modern technologies, regulations by the government, financial boundaries and patient empowerment. Garner your practice revenue and cut costs without compromising on the quality of service. Our proven models of tailored solution will enhance your practice performance by understanding your practice's needs, driving revenue and certify your practice as transparent and healthy.

Outsourcing with MedBill Compliance Group, Inc.

Pros

Dedicated, Highly Trained Specialists

MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. has one district objective—increases your practice profitability. We review all payments to ensure proper carrier payment amounts and preventing incorrect adjustments. We track all claims thru payment. We work closely with your practice to ensure optimal workflow and training.

A changing Industry

Because the healthcare landscape is changing at an unprecedented progression, Medical Billing Compliance Group, Inc. is not spared the cataclysm of change. MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. maintains vigilance in its education, rules and governing requirements. MedBill Compliance Group, Inc is your dedicated partnership.

Cons

Variable Cost

Many medical billing companies charge a percentage of collection. Because your practice can fluctuate between its busiest months, a percentage base charge would reflect inaccuracies in expenses and budget.

Hidden Fees

Careful analysis of any outsourcing contract will consist of fees for printing statements, sending reports and cancellation of agreement. MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. has no upfront fees as our partnership is built on feasibility and a transparent net return. Partner with MedBill Compliance Group, Inc. and give your practice the health care it deserves.